The Routledge Companion to Rehabilitative Work in Criminal Justice

Edited by Pamela Ugwudike, Hannah Graham, Fergus McNeill, Peter Raynor, Faye S. Taxman and Chris Trotter

All the world's criminal justice systems need to undertake direct work with people who have come into their care or under their supervision as a result of criminal offences. Typically this is organised in penal and correctional services – in custody in prisons, or in the community supervised by services such as probation. Bringing together international experts, this book is the go-to source for students, researchers and practitioners in criminal justice, looking for a comprehensive and authoritative summary of available knowledge in the field.

This book is an essential and flexible resource for researchers and practitioners alike and is an authoritative guide for students taking courses on working with offenders, criminal justice policy, probation, prisons, penology and community corrections.
